
Mercy University Hospital, Cork, founded in 1857 by the Sisters of Mercy, is one of the oldest and most respected hospitals in Ireland. It is a centre of National and International excellence, renowned for its research and tertiary services and is a teaching hospital of University College Cork. The Mercy University Hospital provides in-patient, day-patient, out-patient services and accident and 24/7 emergency services in the centre of Cork City. The hospital is an acute general hospital and has 332 beds.

Currently, the hospital employs approximately 1,000 staff. Over 130,000 patients are treated annually and the number of patients being treated by MUH has risen substantially in the last decade and continues to do so as new facilities are brought on-stream.

MUH is a member of the South/South West Hospital Group along with eight other hospitals in the region and is committed to ensuring that patients across the South/South West Hospital Group receive the highest standard of care.
